The Experience of an Old Line Whig.
Reflections and Consolations.

Well, my party is disbanded and gone—the glorious Whig party, the hope of the country, the party of Clay and Webster! It's a grievous. The Central Committee has been advertised to, and non est in causa. The organs are cut off, and my old friends talk in a strange fashion—not used to such verbiage. Whig principles are bottled up, and set away on the shelf for use hereafter. They'll spoil for lack of use; not being, perhaps, in the best order when corked up, and in villainously bad keeping. I have worn craps thirty days, in the anguish of despair—not used to it all right. Great was Whig, but unfortunate after all. When we elected Presidents they died. Well, we did not elect Scott, or the old soldier would not be living now, to enjoy the bounty of his country, and the title of Lieutenant General. We knew too much, and as extremes meet, we are given over body to the Know Nothings, and allowed the poor consolation of watching that bottle away, with Whig principles corked up, for use at some future day.

Where shall I go? Anywhere but to that house where my unfortunate Whig brethren have been taken in and done for. Ed Whig, in mourning.

Trouble among the Know Nothings.

The recent conversion of Know Nothing in the Ashland District, nominated James F. Robinson, of Scott, as their candidate for Congress. This nomination has caused much dissatisfaction, and there will probably be two American candidates in the field. R. E. Trabue was the first choice of the convention, but not being a member of the order, and unwilling to join it, he was reluctantly thrown aside, and Robinson nominated. Trabue claims to have been an advocate of Native Americanism, who most of the Know Nothings were either openly opposed to the principle or yielding it but a reluctant support. He was willing to make the race openly, fearlessly—but he was unwilling to be the tool of an irresponsible, secret political organization. He will, it is said, be an independent candidate. This result, though suicidal to the new party, was not altogether unexpected. Mr. Trabue having no great admiration for Mr. Crittenden, but being openly in favor of Garrett Davis, for the Presidency. Hence, the Frankfort oligarchs took the track.

To-day the meeting is to be held at Jefferson, to take action in reference to the conduct of some people in Cincinnati, who robbed the Rev. Mr. Dennison of a servant girl. We have come upon strange times of late. A slaveholder can't take a servant with him into any free State, but he is set upon by a mob, and wrested of his property, or it is taken from him under color of law.

We hope there will a full attendance at Jefferson, and that something judicious and practical will be suggested and acted upon. The conduct of Ohio is incompatible with the harmony that ought to exist between Ohio and Kentucky. She may plow State rights, but if a State does all the evil she has a constitutional right to do, there can be little hope of the Union. There is something to do good neighborhood, outside of literal constitutional obligations. Education will sooner or later pass over the reputation of such acts, and the worse consequences are to be apprehended. Let our actions be temperate, but firm. Ask nothing that is not right, but resist the wrong without compromising.

The State Temperance Convention.

This body assembled in Lexington on Monday last. The attendance was small, and it seems that the whole proceeding was a mere confirmation of the doing of the Know Nothing convention in this city. Mr. Hardy was publicly renominated for the office of Lieutenant Governor, whilst Mr. Loving was scarcely recommended for the office of Governor. Then the Temperance party had sold itself to the Know Nothing. This was anticipated, composed, as the convention was, of too many political tricksters and wire workers to permit them to sacrifice the success of the Know Nothing nominees to the cause of temperance. So ends the doing of the Temperance party. It remains to be seen whether, as a party, they will support the Know Nothing candidates. Temperance in itself is a good thing, but combined with Know Nothingism it can't be availed. The people will not tolerate such an unallowed coalition.

WHEREAS, some of our citizens being dissatisfied with the action of the City Council in affirming and ratifying the subscription of $40,000 to the capital stock of the Fort Wayne and Southern Railroad company, and the issuing of bonds of the city in payment of same; and whereas, the approval of the action of the Council, on Saturday night last, has not been deemed by them as a full expression of the majority of the voters of the city; and they have, therefore, drawn up and signed a remonstrance to the Council against the city ratifying said subscription, and issue of bonds.

Resolved, That due notice having been given of this meeting through the public press and by posters, an expression of this meeting, in favor of temperance and disapproving the action of the City Council, that they be given the voice of a majority of the legal voters of the city.

Resolved, That as it has ever been deemed a more fair test of any question to have fully and fairly discussed upon it, than to have it decided by a vote of the people, rather than to obtain an expression through means of a remonstrance, which set an ex parte statement is made—many ready to oppose, and many ready to remonstrate without understanding the question, let the effect of their signatures be to the same extent.

Yours, &
OVERSEER.

RIVER AND WEATHER.

It rained hard on Saturday night, and the water at this point is rising, w<sup>t</sup> h 6 feet 11 inches in the canal.

PITTSBURGH, April 14, M.
There is about 9 inches water in the channel and falling. The weather is cloudy and damp.

CINCINNATI, April 13, M.
The river is stationary. The weather is warm with indications of rain.

The five packet steamer, J. H. Done, leaves for Wheeling this day. She is built expressly for this trade, has the best accommodations for passengers and shippers, and deserves encouragement. Patronize the J. H. Done.

The Jacob Strader is the mail boat for Cincinnati to-day at 11 o'clock. Barker, captain, Bob Danning, crew. Navyed!

Com. for St. Louis.—The low pressure Northerner, commanded by Capt. Fuller, (who's not dead yet, although W. S. Strader told us so once, and we published it,) leaves for St. Louis to-day, having been detained. The Northerner is an excellent boat, and Fuller wider awake than any man dead or living.

For New Orleans.—The unrivaled steamer Edipes, Captain Surgeon, leaves for New Orleans this day. The Edipes is the finest boat that ever ploughed the Western waters, and her officers are true gentlemen. Travel on that boat, messieurs travellers, if you wish safety, pleasure and all that makes a man "laugh and grow fat."

There were six feet water on Harpeth Shoals, Cumberland river, on Saturday, and falling.

The St. Louis Intelligencer, of Friday, says the old Fox, recently sunk in Mississippi river, will prove a total loss, as she is broken in two. In

The St. Louis papers report 10 feet in the channel to Cairo, and 8 feet in the lower Ohio.

We are obliged to the Alvin Adams and Fanny Bullock for St. Louis and New Orleans papers.

New Music.—We are indebted Mr. D. P. Main, street, between Second and Third, for several pieces of new music, which we can recommend to all who are accustomed to delight themselves with the charms of melody. Among the pieces are "The Oracle," words from the French, by Nelly Butler; "The Pet of the Castle," and "How Sweet are the Roses," by Alice Hawthorne, and the "Fox Days Schottisch."

M. Faude has one of the largest establishments, and best stocks of musical instruments and music to be found anywhere in the West. He also publishes very largely himself several of the above named pieces, bearing the stamp of his publication. These in good of music will do well to give him a call and examine his catalogue.

Let any candid person take the trouble to examine the mass of testimony from all parts of the country in favor of Dr. Googlegan's Hydro-pump, and they must confess that notwithstanding the conclusive evidence which has been published, the half has not been told, and that no other preparation can show a fifth of the evidence which can be adduced in behalf of this remarkable medicine. To be used in the spring of the year as a purifier and renovator of the human system. It is an invaluable compound, and one which no family should be without, and more especially where any disease exists. The principal office is at Raymond & Peat's, 74 Fourth street.

NIAGARA FALLS.—The great paintings, representing the world's wonder, continue to create more and more enthusiasm. As the audiences increase, the encumbrance upon the panacea grandeur of our ears at every turn. The true and beautiful will, when known, attract attention.

Mr. Frankenstein's reputation as an artist ought to be a sufficient guarantee of the excellence of his Niagara, for certainly he would not allow his name to be attached to anything of inferior merit; but people have seen so many things that cannot be thus represented.

He has seen this Niagara to know the contrary, and are not backward in selling it; indeed, seeing it, he infatuates one that he does not well think of anything else. We heard a merchant say that his book-keeper had been almost incapable of business since attending the exhibition.

Mr. F. tells us that in consequence of the engagement of the hall for concerts, for three nights this week, commencing with Wednesday, there will be afternoon exhibitions on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, which we mention for the benefit of those ladies unwilling to come in the evening, and people residing in the country.

THE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—The Lexington Observer gives the following sketch of the proceedings of the State Temperance Convention, which was in session in that city last week.

The friends of temperance assembled in convention in this city on Wednesday last, in obedience to a call of the State Central Committee, for the purpose of considering what action was necessary on their part by reason of the decision of George W. Williams. The meeting was respectfully attended, and among those who took part in the proceedings we observed several of the most prominent gentlemen of the Order in the State. Dr. S. C. Scott of Troy, Mr. Garrison, Rev. Mr. Green, Dr. T. B. Posey, Dr. H. Edward Oldham, Dr. S. L. Parsons, Samuel Shuy and Judge B. F. Graves, of Fayette, Dr. L. L. Pinkerton, of Woodford, and others.

THE negro barbers, John A. Hall, who administered chloroform to a gentleman at Dunkirk, and rebuked him of a considerable sum of money, and who was arrested at New Orleans, came up on the Belle Sherian, in custody of an officer. It was taken up on the malibut Saturday.

The negro barbers, John A. Hall, who administered chloroform to Mr. Tidd, Dunkirk, and was afterwards arrested in New Orleans, is now in jail in this city. We suppose the officers are awaiting a trial. He is a precious scamp from all accounts. A southern plantation and a tight overseer would wonders in him.

CONTRACT EARNED HIS PAROLE.—Gov. Johnson of Tennessee, has extended his executive clemency in behalf of Thomas Greig, a convict who signalized distinguished himself at the fire which destroyed a portion of the Penitentiary a few weeks ago. Greig is said to have been born heroically, and battled with the flames in such a manner that was the admiration of all present.
